Hello Starlight Ranch

Well to say the least we are going through a strange time over last couple of months. I want to say that it has been hard for many and a challenge for most people and we will be coming out of this with a different state of mind. My hope is that it is a better state of mind for most with a feeling of knowing how great life is in this great country. We do have a small part of life here at the Ranch, but I do pray and hope that all of our residents are doing well and weathering the storm without becoming ill. There are many that the loss of income has been very hard and hopefully they'll get the help they need. We all know that there are a lot of resources available. Those that need help may be having problems with getting to those needed resources, so if you know how to work through those problems try to share your knowledge with your neighbors. We are a community and that's how a good community works. Then it becomes what people call "A Great Place to Live." Working together makes our great community even better. Although our plans have been put on hold, the HOA will be looking forward to getting back to enjoying activities and getting to enjoy the benefits of living here at the Ranch. I know there are a lot of residences that want the poolside get together and get into the water. Many of us also looking forward to the great gatherings at our clubhouses for activities and meals. I know I miss Tony's great cooking and getting to break bread with the residents. In many of the letters that I have written in the past, the best part of living at Starlight Ranch is the residents and those get-togethers. So let's pull together and make it even better than before. Let's all become team members by joining the HOA and have a say in how our community works. As we move forward, let's take this opportunity to make our community even better and be proud to call Starlight Ranch home.

I couldn't put down this book, even though I am truly a mystery fan.

At the age of seven, Kyra's mother left home. Her older brother and two sisters drifted away, too...and then her father. At night, she listened to the songs of tree frogs and katydids. A truant officer made her go to school. After the other kids laughed at her, she never returned, hiding from the officer. Kyra never returned to school a day in her life. She returned to heron watching and shell collecting.

Kyra survived for years alone in the marsh. When two men from town became intrigued with her beauty...one taught her how to read...and the other became a tale of possible murder. She was called "Marsh Girl" and after she educated herself and became a well-known naturalist and author...she was called "Marsh Expert". Most of what she knew she learned from the wild, and taught others how the marsh links the land to the sea .Thanks!
